W. F. BROWN'S
35 S. Main St.

TO THE PEOPLE OF JANESVILLE:

In the statement made Saturday night I dealt almost entirely with the needs of the Gas Company from my standpoint as operator.

There is another and equally important side, which affects over 3,000 consumers in this City, and that is their supply of fuel and light. Very many families are entirely dependent upon a continuous supply of gas in order to prepare their food. The new houses, which are being built, also demand this same service.

To furnish this service necessitates the laying of mains and services, and the purchasing of meters. It costs us from $100.00 to $125.00 per home to furnish this equipment. If, as is expected, 300 new homes are built in this City this year, we must invest from $30,000.00 to $37,500.00 to enable them to use gas. Also in order to make the gas we must invest several hundred thousand dollars besides in plant equipment.

To provide these funds we must offer a large enough return to induce those, who have money to invest, to loan it to us. The very fact that Public Utilities are, under present conditions, operating upon a very small margin of profit and in many cases at an actual loss, makes it correspondingly difficult for them to secure loans. Therefore, to get funds under present conditions we must pay high rates of interest. In order to pay these rates we must earn them from the sale of our product.

I feel safe in stating that no one, using gas for fuel, wants to go back to the use of coal or wood, but this alternative is surely facing us, if no profit can be made from the sale of gas.

I sincerely believe that there is no one, unwilling to have this Company earn sufficient returns to enable it to render the services required of it in a satisfactory manner.

It is a physical impossibility for this Company to change its location. It is absolutely dependent upon local people for its success. It must compete with coal, oil, and wood in selling its product, and is dependent upon the good will of this community for its very existence.

There is no step, which it is so loath to take as to increase the price of gas; but it can no more serve its community, when its returns are insufficient, than a man can live and satisfactorily do his work, when his supply of blood gives out.

I have never knowingly made a misrepresentation of facts to you and I assure you that I am not misrepresenting the gravity of the situation that confronts us.

Manager

BANDSTAND AGAIN BEFORE THE PUBLIC

Bower City Band Director Makes Plea for Long Talk of Structure.

Plans are being formulated for the annual series of band concerts in Jansville during the summer months. Directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their meeting yesterday afternoon will have the matter presented to them. It will be decided whether or not the Chamber will get behind the idea and if so what methods of raising the necessary funds will be adopted.

W. T. Thiele today declared for a bandstand in emphatic terms. "I don't think we need a bandstand," he said. "At various times past, the idea has been brought up, but it has just as quickly died."

"As far back as 35 years ago when I used to come out here from Milwaukee to lead the band, I was promising a proper band stand in court house park. The only stand we have ever had was made of a dozen sawhorses and a couple of planks. In addition, the boys had to stand all the expense of moving the stand and the planks to the place. Every time we had a concert, we had to haul the planks back and forth."

LOCAL BAND CANT PLAY WITH FAIRIES

The Fairbanks Music band of Beloit yesterday offered its services gratis to Jansville, Friday, when it closes down for a half holiday for baseball day, the official opening of the home season of the Samson team. The plans hummed along without interruption until 10 a. m. today, when a bolt fell into the musical one of arrangements.

The rattle started when W. T. Thiele of the Bower City band dropped into the Chamber of Commerce to see what arrangements, if any, had been made for band concerts this summer. The matter of the Bower City band's participation in baseball day was brought up by Manager Harmon.

"We're planning to have two bands, yours and the one from the Fairbanks-Morse plant at Beloit," the explosion occurred. "You cannot get the Jansville band under those arrangements," said Mr. Thiele. "We are all union men, hold our cards in the federation. That band down at Beloit is on the blacklist. We can't play in the same parade with them."

"THE GREAT AIR ROBBERY"

A drama of the skies which has never been equaled and never can be duplicated. How would you like to stand on the fragile wing of an airplane at a hundred miles an hour? What would you do if you knew you were going to climb with him from one machine to another with nothing earth 5,000 feet below. You would send for a lawyer and write out will.

Is a picture that paints a warning to air smugglers and out-laws.

Ten miles used to be a long way

WHAT a difference in these motor-car days, when every point in the county is hardly more than "just around the corner."

People's ideas are changing, too.

They're beginning to figure out how much it is costing them to keep a car. And the man who is doing the greatest amount of figuring is the man with the moderate-price car.

II

There still seems to be a notion in some quarters that any tire is good enough for a small car.

That's not what the man who owns it thinks.

In recommending and selling U. S. Tires we are trying to see his side of the proposition—finding out what he wants in a tire and giving him that.

III

Large or small, U. S. Tires are built to only one standard of quality—the standard that produced the first straight side automobile tire, the first pneumatic truck tire.

Every tire that bears the name "U. S." is built the best way its makers know how. It isn't the car, but the man who owns the car, that counts with the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

IV

As representatives of U. S. Tires in this town, we offer you the benefit of our experience and advice in settling your tire problem.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.

For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cords.

yesterday's city election here, according to almost complete unofficial returns early today.

On election, three labor candidates, apparently have won in the face of returns from more than half the city.

Wood's returns indicate a large majority for the amendment to the city charter which would grant policemen an 8 hour day.

ILLINOIS CONVENTIONS ARE CHOOSING ELECTORS

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—Presidential electors and alternate electors and central committee members will be selected at conventions held in the 25 Illinois congressional districts today by both the republican and democratic parties.

LABOR AND FARMER PLATFORM ADOPTED

Grand Island, Neb., May 5.—The mass convention held here yesterday by the state federation of labor, the Non-Partisan League and various bodies of farmers and organized labor, adopted a platform of 12 resolutions.

The resolutions called for a governor, lieutenant governor, and attorney general, adopted a platform favoring the exemption of farmers and business from taxation; state ownership of flour mills and packing plants, so far as necessary to restore competition; municipal ownership of storage and public utilities; cooperative banks; better salaries for school teachers and state and federal bonus for soldiers.

The resolutions called for the amendment to the state constitution establishing industrial courts and the far price committees as now operating.

SOUTHERN STATES TO SEND RIVAL DELEGATIONS

New Orleans, La., May 5.—Louisiana and Mississippi will send rival delegations to the republican national convention.

When the "regular republicans" of Louisiana named uninvited delegates to Chicago 2 months ago, it was announced that party differences had been buried, but it became known today that the so-called "lily white" faction met yesterday at

This day in 1864 began the last great advance of the Union troops under Gen. Grant against Lee. Fighting followed the crossing of the Rapidan on the 4th of May. Grant had 120,000 men and Lee on the defensive mustered 62,000. Grant lost in the two days fighting in the Battle of the Wilderness, May 5 and 6, 17,665 men. While no material success was gained in the Wilderness battle it was followed later by the desperate fighting of Spotsylvania and Cold Harbor, and eventually a change of base and the siege of Petersburg.

GARBAGE COLLECTION OF VITAL INTEREST.

The public will call the attention of the city council to the matter of garbage collection very shortly and with emphasis, unless the council at once anticipates the demand for some regulation and settlement of the question by passing the necessary regulating ordinance.

Garbage disposal has so intimate relations to the health of the city that it should not be left to individual choice as to the method of disposal, but be rigidly regulated.

There should certainly be regular collections, and the city should be thoroughly covered by the wagons. That is the first necessity. There should be fixed obligations on the part of the occupant of the home as well as on the city. Garbage is a breeder of flies, a disease spreader and a menace to health if not cared for under sanitary rules. It profits little to swat the fly if the garbage is left for decay and to provide a ready-at-hand home for propagating millions more of flies.

The city council seems ready to meet questions squarely in most instances, although the members are apparently afraid of the cars on the auto parking plan. There can be no justification in longer putting off the matter of garbage disposal.

TEN CENTS A CROW.

Examination of the stomachs of many crows by the United States biological survey disclosed the fact that the crow is a destroyer of bugs and beetles, worms and moths, all of them crop enemies. Within the crow interior was found tussock moths, the destroyer of trees; gypsy and brown tail moths, cut worms, chinch bugs, army worms, cotton worms, canker worms, May beetles, grasshoppers, every one of them recognized as a pest and an enemy of every farmer. We have removed the forests, denuded the land of the homes of the birds, which have been the greatest enemy of grain and garden destroying insects, and now we are to kill off all the crows. For years, in fact as long as there has been land tilled in America, the farmer has considered the crow his natural enemy. He does take some corn, a little when first planted, and later mostly that which is left on the ground after harvesting, but look at the bugs and worms he kills for the farmer!

We are to pay a bounty of ten cents a crow now in Rock county. One of the powder-making houses has offered prizes for shooting crows, and we are bound to exterminate him. So here is a word in his favor. It might be well to count the cost of killing off the crow before finally saying farewell. Once we thought that all the wild birds were pests. Not so now. We know that there would be a decided economical change if there were no birds and that crop loss would be doubled. The greatest pest in the world, is the rat and the mouse. The county board would be doing a real public act if it devised a means of exterminating the ruthless, wasteful, disease breeding and plague carrying rat. He costs thousands where the crow costs his price—ten cents.

ON THE MARRIAGE LAW.

By the decision of the supreme court of Wisconsin, the grave question of the validity of marriages outside of the state, has been in part settled to the relief of the many who have taken the opportunity of going to Waukegan, Menominee or to some other place across the border where less rigid requirements as to matrimony prevail. The decision of the court, however, will not make valid a marriage ceremony performed in another state when the laws of the state in which the marriage takes place would have prohibited that marriage. The eugenic law of Wisconsin does not act as a bar to such marriages. The marriage license law only applies to marriages in Wisconsin. The law has no extra-territorial effect.

The decision brings again to the fore the necessity of a national law regulating marriage and divorce. The recent scandals of divorce in Nevada, sanctioned by law of that state, and the laxity in divorce in other states, the easy marriage permitted in many states bordering on Wisconsin, all practically nullify the laws passed by our legislature, so as to surround the marriage relations with protection and make for better offspring. Under the supreme court's decision it would appear that the marriage law of Wisconsin is of little consequence, except to those who cannot afford to travel.

In New York state a different attitude has been taken in reference to violation of court decrees of divorce. There, an order against marriage in one year, violated by one of the parties marrying again in another state within the limit set, has been held to be sufficient cause for the annulment and even to establish a charge of adultery against the divorcee upon a return to New York.

Federal regulation, making a law apply to all the states is apparently the only solution of this difficulty encountered in the scores of differing marriage laws and so prolific in litigation.

The council wants public opinion as to parking automobiles. The Gazette provides a channel for the expression of that opinion and will gladly print letters bearing on the question. Evidently the council is afraid that the parking of automobiles under definite rules will hurt the feelings of some automobile owner. That is not the point. The protection of the pedestrian is also to be considered, and also to keep the streets clear for the avoidance of accidents.

With bitterness, the Kenosha News decries the lawlessness of that city and the failure of the police to enforce prohibition. The city of Kenosha has had and maintains a reputation, or rather notoriety for laxity of law enforcement not at all complimentary to either the city or the people. It is about as lax on that question as the enforcement of the laws against gambling in some Janesville cigar stores.

The strike of the taxicab drivers in Cleveland followed a city ordinance requiring each of them to have his finger prints registered. However, we see no reason in this for a strike. It would in no way impair the former clutch of the fingers on a ten dollar bill.

Racine is all turn up over daylight saving. It is the same condition that will come to any city adopting the changed time without the participation of the entire country. Daylight saving in a city all by its lonesome is like trying to operate the Swiss navy in Switzerland.

Kentucky democrats are for Governor James M. Cox for president. How comes that Governor Edwards was not in the running in that state of fast horses and red liquor?

We have peace by common consent, why not peace by resolution? Or are we barred from resolving that a fact is a fact?

At the Nation's Capital

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Reorganization of the committee system of the United States senate, advocated for years and discussed again and again, without result, is at last to be accomplished. Instead of 77 committees with innumerable sub-committees taking up the time of members so that frequently it is impossible to get a committee quorum there will be not more than 30 committees. Every senator will make a member of one of the 10 or 15 major committees and a member of at least two of 12 or 13 minor committees. It may prove to be the first step toward a reorganization of the ten government departments.

This proposal of change has met with the approval of republicans and democrats and a sub-committee of the senate committee on rules has just been authorized to submit a comprehensive plan to the full committee on rules and the prospects are that the scheme will go through this session.

Democrats told their republican colleagues at last night's meeting that they planned the identical method of reorganization when they came into power eight years ago but that all sorts of obstacles came up to prevent action.

Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois is the father of the plan. Incidentally he has pushed the budget bill through the senate. His hobby is efficiency in government and a number of senators have been told to line up their support to various plans for the rearrangement of government service, the Illinois senator has gotten behind the idea and is centering his whole legislative career on efficiency.

The idea of concentrating committee work in the senate in a few committees is new, but no party has hitherto been able to shut off the little patronage privileges and political camouflage that went with membership in several committees.

The burdens brought on by war, however, and a congested calendar have made the members of the senate more than ever desirous of cutting out insignificant and unimportant committees. For instance, there was a time when a committee on Indian depredations might have been necessary, but not any more. Then again, the work of several committees involves the same kind of subjects and can easily be combined.

A committee on "The Mississippi River and its tributaries" can be combined with a committee on "inter-oceanic canals." A committee "to investigate trespassers upon Indian lands" can be absorbed by a "committee on Indian affairs." A glance at the congressional directory reveals how easily the consolidation of committee work can be accomplished. It will mean that more work will be done in committee and that more attention will be given to what is done. As it is members of the senate find themselves on four or five committees all meeting on the same day. The result is patchwork legislation which takes up more time on the floor of the senate when amendments too often become necessary.

There is a chance, moreover, that the reduction of the number of committees will vitally affect the seniority system which has been the bone of political parties for years. The republicans and democrats know the evils of the seniority process which often puts at the head of a committee a man least qualified to handle it. Length of service means no special relationship to the fitness of an individual to manage a committee, and when the recognition is put into effect it will become necessary for whichever party is in power to choose carefully their chairmen. With only seven or eight committees absorbing the work of several minor committees, it will be doubly necessary for the dominant party to exercise caution and care in electing their leaders.

As suggested above, the movement for reorganization in government is likely to be broadened. Already Senator Smoot has introduced a bill providing for a joint committee of the two houses of congress to draw up a plan whereby the bureaus in the ten executive departments of the government can be redistributed or combined both in the interest of economy and efficiency. The bill will probably pass both houses without much opposition. Usually these efforts at efficiency come with every change in political control and they rarely accomplish very much because other issues and subjects are considered more important. This year, however, one of the things on which the republican party will base its plea for nation-wide support will be government efficiency. Senate reorganization, a budget system, consolidation of government bureaus and reduction of expenditures all relate to the common theme of trying at least to convince the American people that they are getting their money's worth of the large sums they are paying in taxes.

JUST FOLKS

MA AND THE OULIA BOARD.

I don't know what it's all about, but Ma says that she wants to know. If spirits in the other world can really talk to us below.

An' Pa says, "Gosh! there's folks enough on earth to talk to, I should think. Without you pesterin' the folks whose souls have gone across the brink."

But Ma, she wants to find out things an' study on her own accord.

An' so a month or two ago she went an' bought a oulia board.

It's just a shiny piece of wood with letters printed here an' there.

An' has a little table which you put your fingers on with care.

An' then you sit an' whisper low some question that you want to know.

Then by an' by the spirit comes an' makes the little table go.

An' Ma, she starts to giggle then an' Pa just grumbles out, "Lord, you didn't buy this thing. I wish you hadn't bought this thing. We didn't need a oulia board."

"You're movin' all!" says Ma to Pa. "I'm not!" says Pa. "I know it's you; You're makin' it spell things to us that you know very well aren't true."

"That isn't so," says Ma to him, "but I am certain from the way"

The oulia moves that you're the one who's tellin' it just what to say."

"It's just the way," says Pa, "like batteries all men are stored."

But anyhow I don't believe we ought to have a oulia board.

One night Ma got it out, an' said, "Now Pa, I want you to be fair. Just keep right still an' let your hands rest lightly on the table over the letters."

"Oh, Oulia, tell me, tell me true, are we to buy another car."

An' will we get it very soon?" she asked, "Oh, tell us first what you know."

"Don't buy a car," the letters spelled, "the price this year you can't afford."

Then Ma got mad, an' said that time she's never used the oulia board.

WOW! DOCTOR!

"Do not assume," says Dr. Frank Crane. "Do not take for granted that every fact. Use the dictionary and the encyclopedia, the teacher. Investigate. Ask questions. Know. Do not guess." It is good advice. A Hindu has invented a oulia board that cannot tell a lie. But what's the satisfaction of monkeying with a oulia board that insists on telling the truth? We and people tackle oulia boards they want to hear what they want to hear, and generally, it is not the truth. Then, again, we'll bet we can push any oulia board around so it will tell us pleasant falsehoods a whole evening.

Mr. Edison informs us that he shortened our lives by overeating, which we would say is one of the pleasantest ways of shortening one's life that Mr. Edison or anybody else has ever invented. It is far superior to the electric chair method or the old-fashioned hemp method. It also beats being run over by a Ford, walking on a third rail or shaking hands with a live wire.

We are in favor of overeating for all those who desire to die.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

May 5, 1880.—There was a fire at the home of J. J. Peaslee last night, the flames being started by the explosion of a kerosene lamp. No damage was done, except that Mrs. Ford was badly burned about the arms. There was a fire at the Peaslee home, Evansville last night. It was discovered by two Janesville boys in time to save the plant.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

May 5, 1890.—Wallace Cochrane has resigned his position as turnkey at the county jail, which took effect at noon today. Frank Grove has been selected by Sheriff Babcock as his successor. "A young man of Bond" was taken from the rockbook by Frank Atkinson by a Northwestern train yesterday afternoon and was brought to this city and taken to the hospital.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

May 5, 1900.—Ex-mayor and Mrs. P. S. Baines have rented their home on North Jackson street and will go to Europe next month, to stay until September. They will be taken to Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas, of Chicago. Mr. Thomas is interested in the Isabel Manufacturing company.—A large load of cattle, passing through here from Canada, were inspected today by local dealers.

TEN YEARS AGO

May 6, 1910.—Arthur Metzinger, a local stock dealer, was hurt in an accident on the North-western line in the yards at Chicago yesterday, and no information can be secured as to his condition, except that he is still unconscious.—Several large bills were taken from the pocketbook of Mrs. Russell, who drove in from her farm this morning and left her pocketbook hanging on a hook in the hitch barn.

Exercise for the Teeth

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, May 5.—The teeth of the civilized man are dropping out because they are not given enough work to do.

The mouth of the average child of today does not grow because the foods it eats are so easy of mastication that it is given no exercise. The mouth of an adult is an inch in width between the ages of three and eight. The mouth of the average American child of today increases .03 of an inch a year.

The result is that the semicircle of the jaw which holds the teeth is not long enough to give them sufficient space. Because of this they pile up. They grow in such a way that they do not properly fit together and do not properly perform their task of grinding. Because of unnatural jaws which some must bear, and because not enough work comes to the teeth, a little too far back, become loose, and pyorrhea and other mouth complaints follow. The result is that the teeth of modern man have become the weak spot in his physique.

American dentists have been steadily developing in dentistry, and in the work of patching teeth another nation has far surpassed any other nation. Many dentists in this country have been trained in the United States and have established themselves in the European continent. But the work of the American dentist is not done when the damage done to the teeth through decay is repaired. A new idea has been introduced into the realm of American dentistry. It was in 1901 that Edward H. Angle established a school of dentistry at the University of Illinois. We may talk about this school without giving it undue advertisement, because it is no longer a school, and the Angle school has been in the world in retirement in California.

Aimed to Shape Mouth.—This was a post-graduate school for dentists. Its idea was that of properly shaping the mouth and the teeth. The simplest of orthodontic appliances are crowded teeth protruding from teeth, or eye teeth which grow outside of the normal row. There are other defects which are not obvious without careful examination. The point of the lower teeth, for instance, should strike between the teeth that are above. If it comes forward, it may strike the crown of the tooth above and thus prevent the whole jaw from growing. The lower teeth are removed, it often throws the whole jaw off its normal grinding surface. Teeth may come in twisted in their sockets, and may be crowded out, and thus destroy the grinding plane.

Making Teeth Grow Straight.—The post-graduate school that Dr. Angle established undertook to readjust teeth that did not properly fit together. Pressure would be applied to a tooth for several months and to cause a tooth to grow in the desired position.

During the last 20 years a little group of dentists has developed which specializes in the task of properly shaping and placing the teeth. Of the 45,000 dentists in the United States today there are 350 men known as orthodontists, who devote themselves to this sort of work. It is also being taken up by a number of the world except those who have been trained in the United States. There is one such practitioner in South de Janeiro, the only one in South America. Between Richmond and El Paso there are but three such specialists.

Why Civilized Teeth Are Bad.—Those specialists have been asking themselves why it is that they almost never find a perfect set of teeth. In studying the teeth formations of civilized man they have compared them with the same teeth formations of primitive man. In the National Museum at Washington there are about five hundred skulls of primitive children. The collection is the largest collection of such skulls in existence. The skulls of these children of three and of eight and 10 years have been measured and compared. The normal growth of the jaw bones of primitive children and those of civilized children have been compared. The primitive and civilized jaws often are found to be alike at the age of two, but very unlike at the age of eight. The conclusion is that the primitive child and the civilized child have had a different experience between these ages, which has resulted in the difference of the jaws of the one and the lack of growth of the jaws of the other. Ninety percent of the sets of teeth of these primitive children are perfect. The teeth of the American Indian before he was civilized are perfect. The teeth of the American child are perfect, while the teeth of the new generations of Indians are little better than their white counterparts. A few of the people in the world whose teeth are improving are the Eskimoes.

Food Is Responsible.—The food which each eats is responsible. A child of primitive man grinds his own grain with his jaws and chews his dried meat. Thus the pressure of heavy work is put on that arch which holds the teeth during the years when they are forming. The arch is constantly subjected to pressure which causes it to grow in strength and to expand. Thus adequate space is provided for the growing teeth, and thus the whole structure is made vigorous and strong.

Not Enough Chewing.—In the case of the civilized child, it is fed with breakfast foods, meats from which all resistance has been cooked, soft-cooked vegetables, desserts which are soft and smooth. The arch of the mouth gets none of that pressure which causes it to expand and grow.

There is no unanimity of opinion as to the cure. The teeth must be given work, exercise. A tooth base must be developed, as are the muscles by exercise. These specialists call for a return of the old days when the American household was familiar with a piece of beefsteak that was normal and tough. They suggest that a supply of unground wheat be kept about the house and that the children be led to the habit of eating it. They insist that the practice of chewing gum, which is generally taboo, be made respectable and that it be given general encouragement. They urge gum manufacturers to make it tougher. They recommend that each individual and particularly each parent of a child, between the age of two and eight take thought to devise methods which will exercise the teeth and bring that portion of the human nature world ready to grinding up to normal strength and efficiency.

Editor Gazette:

As a woman of 93 years, I would like to say a few words in regard to dancing, and the recent remarks made by Rev. Lewis. I might say with the article written by "A Mother."

I attended dancing school in my girlhood days, and my conception of a few years have danced all my life, leading the Virginia reel at 82 years at a family party in Janesville. There is no harm in it. I might like to enter a ball-room and see young people nicely dressed and dancing to the rhythm of the music. A close student of human nature would read in their faces only pure happiness and joy. And the fact that girls are seen dancing together, strengthens my views and weakens the statement of coarseness.

I have had church societies at my home, where the games were played and can truthfully say that in my years of dancing I never saw such rough conduct in a ball-room as at the social. While the boys and girls may be those who are thoughtless, the broad assertion that all are so low brings us near the animal kingdom.

I would suggest to Rev. Lewis for his next subject, "Gossip and Slandering," two of the most dangerous practices of the age. And their results never die, while dancing gives us ease and elegance of manners.

Dancing will always be practiced, and not wisely weakened by the opinion of one or more persons.

A very good remedy for this social amusement would be to have a public and wife to chaperon a select dance party. And until a pleasant medium is found, the dance will reign. I endorse the article written by "A Mother," and extend to her the right hand of fellowship.

Freight Rate Increases Proposed by Rail Officials

Washington, May 5.—Freight rate increases of 30.4 percent for eastern railroads, 30.8 percent for southern railroads, and 33.9 for western lines have been proposed to the Interstate Commerce commission by the Association

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

FLOWERS FROM THE NEW

ADMIRED. I have an idea that Jack was tremendously pleased with my popularity at the dance last evening. Yes, I was sought after, and the thought is far from unpleasant. I remember all the men I danced with, nor the ever present "waiting" list!

My last recollection of the handsome Paris was of being serenaded by him to the accompaniment of a harmonica (all out of tune incidentally), and of being the center of all eyes, for he certainly was the most distinguished man there—outside of Jack, of course. Then he begged me to let him call on me when I was free, as I told him that would be never, as I was engaged. Of course that was putting it rather literally, I think—but Jack came up in time to save me from further embarrassment, and there you are.

Funniest thing of all is that my costume drew third prize. And when you think that it took me about twenty minutes to make.

Jack was so flushed and pleased with himself, over myself, all the way home, he declared that I was the queen of the evening, and that he had overheard ever so many people raving about me. I tell you all this makes one feel very much better. I am a girl—a pretty girl, may I say?

This afternoon a huge basket of orchids was sent for me, and I was just gazing at their beauty, and cooling my appreciation of dear old Jack's thoughtfulness, when I discovered a card tucked away, and picked it up. On it was written, "To Helen from Paris."

Fortunately I did not ask to see the card—she took it for granted that the flowers were from Jack—and it was only at dinner time that I finally screwed up courage enough to tell her that they came from someone else. Her face dropped, but she said nothing. There are times when silence is the most eloquent of comforting things possible. Am I right?

Of course when Jack came in later, bearing a huge bunch of roses, and all smiles for his Lindsey, I told him about the orchids. He laughed a bit and said that he couldn't blame a girl for sending me them, for after all I was a most alluring little person. We kissed many times and had a most wonderful evening. One of the kind that lingers in the memory.

I find that the more one kisses one's beloved, the more one is to be loved. Four hours without a kiss! Funny, isn't it? And yet I don't believe that I am the first woman to make that discovery.

Madeleine and I. He is so clean, masterful and true. He is so clean, the right way, of course. I think there is nothing more truly masculine than the whiff of tobacco that is wafted to one's nostrils every now and then from the innermost king of the fancies of your heart. It's positively inspiring.

"We sat and dreamed of the future, and a golden one it will be if all our dreams come true. Jack says they will."

Just as we were immersed in each other's eyes, Cecil came whistling into the room, and at sight of us halted. He never loses his presence of mind, however, and told us he had just come in, etc. How I laughed when Jack told me a suspicion that my dear old Cecil had been calling on his Barbara. It would be funny—happening so quickly. But Cecil danced last night, now that I come to think of it, so there you are.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Our store will close Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the balance of the day. Everybody should attend the opening game of the Samson Base Ball team at the Fair Grounds. Forward Janesville.

BIG CROWD WILL SEE SAMSON GAME

Thousands Expected to Pour Into Fair Grounds Field—Getting Everything Ready for Event.

Friday afternoon will be one of the biggest holidays in the history of Janesville. The day will equal any fair day and even the big homecoming day crowds of 1913. It will be a fair time of festivity.

On that afternoon, the Samson Tractor team will start off the home season in the first of three games with the Chicago Magpies. Anywhere from 6,000 to 10,000 people are expected to crowd into the fair grounds at 3 o'clock to watch Mayor Thomas Welsh fling the first ball across the plate to President J. A. Crabb of the Samson Tractor company.

Every train coming into Janesville on that day is expected to carry hundreds of enthusiastic fans from the smaller towns in this vicinity. These folks are urged if they want to do any shopping to do it in the forenoon and immediately after lunch because all retail stores will close at 2 p. m. and remain shut until 6 in honor of the event.

Tractor Plant Will Close. The big tractor shop will draw their doors at noon for the balance of the day. What other factories in town will do has not yet been decided.

Arrangements for the automobile parade have not been completed, but it is certain that something on this order will be staged.

The protection screen is being placed today around the grandstand at the fair grounds field. Temporary bleachers are being constructed over the track to seat the large crowds that are bound to attend. The ground are fast being rolled down and will be in first class condition for the game.

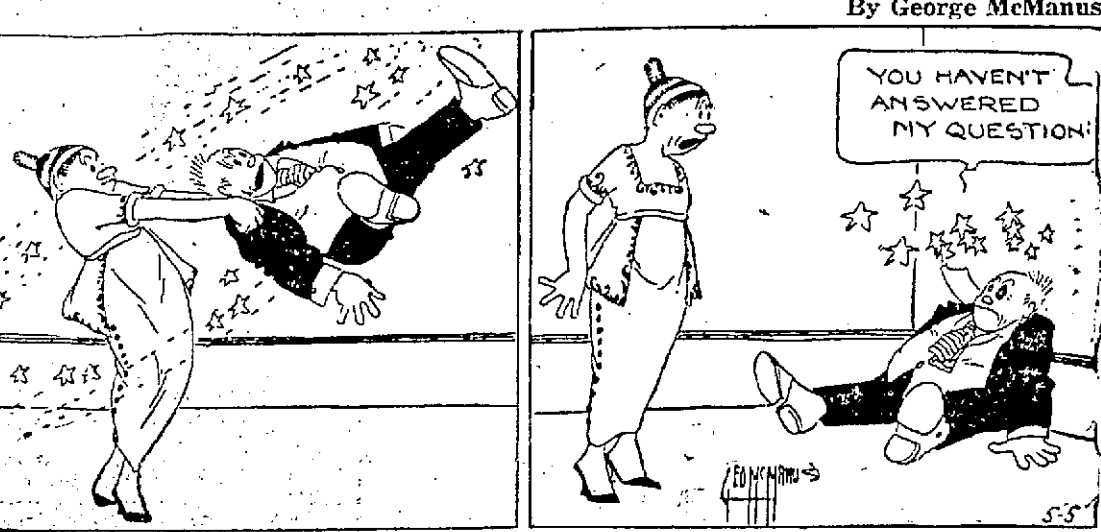

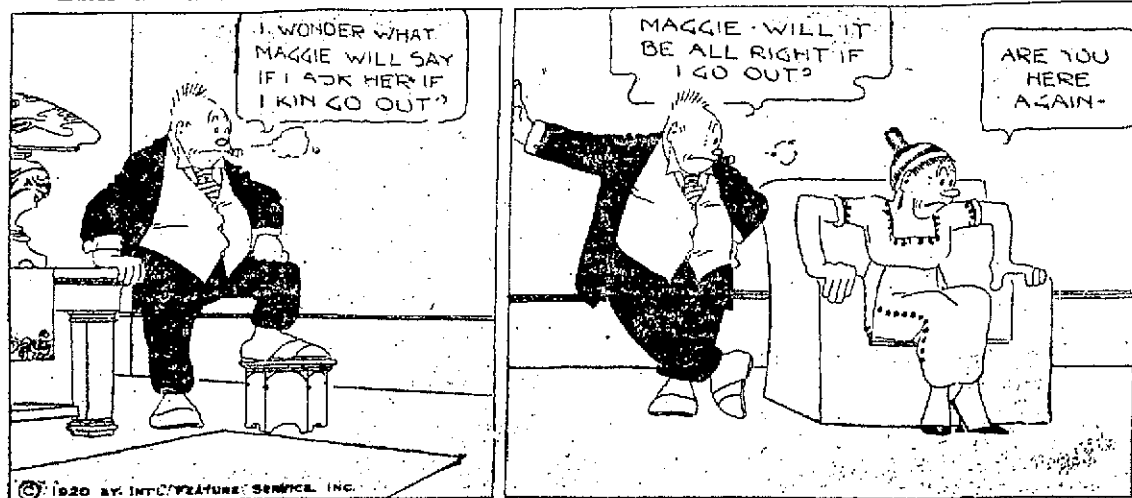

A number of dances at the armory and other halls in town will feature an air of merriment and entertainment in the evening.

AL CHUBB, MANAGER OF FAIRIES, MARRIES

Manager Al Chubb of the Fairies-More team pulled a fast one on his friends last week when he slipped out quietly and got married. Miss Catherine Hickey of Chicago is the bride.

Harry Swaine, with Shreveport last year, will play first for Duane's Bloomers in the Three-5s this year.

ST. MARY'S BEAT INDIANS AGAIN; 24-23

St. Mary's school won their second victory from the Indians by a score of 24 to 23 yesterday. Fullerton and Monogue starred for St. Mary's with two home runs each and Meyers one for the Indians. The game was played at Court house park.

Line up: St. Mary's: Metzinger, Dorn, Fullerton, Monogue, Brady, Crook, Joyce. Indians: Byrnes, Meyers, Fullerton, Monogue, Hanson, Rockwood.

Shreveport Magee is now with the Columbus American association team.

A. A. U. MAY THROW BASKETBALL OFF ITS LIST OF SPORTS

Out of Chicago comes the story that the Central Amateur Athletic Union may throw basketball out of its list of controlled sports. More than that, a report of a meeting of the board of managers held Monday night, is to the effect that the trophy for the heavy-weight championship, won by New London, Wis., will be held up pending an investigation. "Professionalism" is the cause of the unexpected move. By taking this action, the Central A. A. U. has gone on record as being unable to tell between a professional basketball team and an amateur one, giving as the reason for this that it is impossible to prevent players from competing under assumed names.

About Time. Especially in the tournament of the Central A. A. U. in the last two years has trouble come up because of alleged professionalism of the teams competing. A great row was raised this year following a strike which occurred in the ranks of all basketball teams in Wisconsin. It was shown that a large number of the so-called amateur teams in this state are not amateur at all, but strictly professional.

What the outcome will be is a question, but the general opinion among followers of the sport is that it is about time that the Central A. A. U. took up the matter in an effort to clean house, but it is stated that some other manner than casting basketball off should be followed. Instead of merely disregarding the issue, it is felt that the A. A. U. would be doing better if it would try to clean up affairs.

Schang Rejoins Boston Red Sox

New York.—"Wally" Schang, catcher of the Boston Americans, who had refused to report this season unless granted a salary of $12,500, came to terms yesterday with Henry Frazee, president of the Red Sox.

REDS TOP NATIONAL; CHICAGO TEAMS LOSE

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Only three games scheduled and rain spoiled the chances of Brooklyn and Boston making another long-winded struggle.
The Cincinnati Reds came back into the championship class yesterday, broke their long string of losses and defeated the Cubs 5-4. They are now holding top place in the league. Carter was hit freely in the early innings, Ring weakened in the seventh and was relieved by Luque in the eighth after Chicago had come within a run of tying the score.
Bunching hits in timely places, the Giants smashed a defeat over on the Phillies 6-4. Lebourveau's hitting and his great catch which saved three runs featured. Kauff drew a base on balls each of the four times he faced Coney.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Three Chicago pitchers were trampled upon yesterday by the Browns in a 12 to 4 defeat, the first time that St. Louis has had a victory over the White Sox in heaven knows when.

When a Tiger turns, beware! Detroit made its second win of the season yesterday defeating the Indians 2-1. Both runs came in the ninth when Cobb singled, scoring Bush and Vesper.

Outfitting the Red Sox two to one the Yanks crushed the beantown players yesterday 6-1. Bunched hits in the fifth scored four runs for New York.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.
Milwaukee went down again before the Saints yesterday, this time 3-2. Rapp's single, Williams' sacrifice and a single by Drensen in the tenth scored the winning run.

Unusual Value-In Tires for the Smaller Cars

Not only is characteristic Goodyear merit conspicuous in Goodyear Tires for the smaller cars, but ordinarily the first cost is found to be not greater than that of other tires; often it is actually less.

The combination of unusual value—in first cost and very low final cost, of course, is a result of Goodyear experience, expertness and care employed as insistently in the making of 30x3, 30x3 1/2 and 31x4-inch tires as it is in the construction of the famous Goodyear Cord Tires used on the highest-priced automobiles.

For this reason more cars using these sizes were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

Get this unusual tire value to enjoy on your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other car using one of these sizes, at the nearest Goodyear Service Station. Get these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes at this station.

30x3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread $23.50
30x3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30x3 1/2 size in water-proof bag $4.50

CHANDLER SIX

Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

See How Chandler Checks With High-Priced Cars

THE Chandler Six throughout its seven years of production has been distinguished for its many distinctively superior features of design and equipment which are used also on the highest priced American cars, and not used in any considerable degree by cars now priced hundreds of dollars higher than the Chandler. See, then, how the Chandler checks with ten of the best-known high-priced cars in these features selected as being characteristic of high-grade design and most efficient service.

Superior Chandler Features and the High-Priced Cars that use Them

- CHANDLER SIX 1 One Piece Aluminum Motor Base, which ties the frame of the car together at four points, thus providing a stiffer frame as well as a more rigid motor mounting.
Feature No. Also used by Packard, Locomobile (Bronze), Mercer, Winton, Brewster, Fiat, Stutz, Pierce-Arrow.
- CHANDLER SIX 2 Silent Chain Drive for Motor Shafts.
Feature No. Also used by Winton, Packard, Cadillac, Brewster, Mercer, Fiat.
- CHANDLER SIX 3 Torque arm or Tube.
Feature No. Also used by Pierce-Arrow, Locomobile, Winton, Cadillac, Packard, Brewster, Stutz.

- CHANDLER SIX 4 Annular Ball-bearing Transmission.

- CHANDLER SIX 6 Annular Ball-bearing Rear Wheels.
Feature No. Also used by Packard, Locomobile, Fiat, Marmon, Stutz, Mercer, Pierce-Arrow.
- CHANDLER SIX 7 High Tension Magneto Ignition.
Feature No. Also used by Locomobile, Mercer, Brewster, Winton, Fiat.

THEN, see how these seven cars—sixes which may be considered competitive to the Chandler—do NOT check

- One car, listing at $2975, checks with Chandler in only one feature
One car, listing at $2685, checks with Chandler in only three features
One car, listing at $2400, checks with Chandler in only one feature

- One car, listing at $2195, checks with Chandler in only two features
One car, listing at $2045, checks with Chandler in only two features
One car, listing at $1945, checks with Chandler in only one feature

One car, listing at $2250, does not check with Chandler in any feature

Not a single one of the seven makes of medium-priced Sixes referred to offers you High Tension Magneto Ignition. The Chandler offers you Bosch, recognized the world over as the best ignition system. Only one of them offers you the silent chain drive, although another one of them in its higher-priced model ($3450), incorporates this feature.

These Statements are Facts and they Give You a Few of the Reasons for Chandler Leadership

The specification data quoted is substantiated, in every instance, by the manufacturers of the cars referred to.
